Keynote Speakers

Chris Benedict, Architecture for a Changing World

Chris is a registered architect with 30 years of professional experience. Her office, Chris Benedict, R.A., was founded in 1995 and specializes in the design of exceptionally energy efficient buildings. A leader of the Passive House movement in the United States, Chris has designed over 80 apartment buildings in New York City.

Steve Bluestone, The Bluestone Organization and the Founder of Passive Dwellings

Steve has worked as a developer, general contractor, and property manager, producing thousands of units of housing and tens of thousands of square feet of retail space. Whether working on single-family homes or very large mixed-use apartment buildings, he has helped produce structures that have reduced energy consumption by 90% and more, others that are net-zero, and some that are energy-positive.

Holly Glauser, Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency

Holly is the Director of Development for the Pennsylvania Housing Finance Agency. Having been with PHFA since 1990, she is currently responsible for the development and administration of the Agency's multifamily loan programs including Low Income Housing Tax Credits, PennHOMES, and taxable and tax-exempt bond financings.

Hank Keating, AIA

Hank is a registered architect with more than 30 years of experience in the design and construction of residential developments. Recently retired from Trinity Financial (but consulting back on select projects), Hank completed over nine affordable housing developments totaling over 1500 units in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, and New York City. For the last 10 years, he has been engaged with the Passive House movement.
